At high schools across the country, senior parking spots have become as much about expressing yourself artistically as they are a place to park your car during the school day. The senior tradition of decorating personal parking spots in the school parking lot gives students an opportunity to flex their creative muscles and celebrate the beginning of senior year. The parking spot design will have to be approved before the date it is painted, and a fee of $50 collected. You must supply your own chalk or paint to decorate your parking spot, and you *must paint over the design a solid black color prior to May 3, 2025. If this is not done it will be considered an "obligation" and could keep you from walking in graduation unless a $25 fee is collected.
